Tiger Gold on Fridays

Fort Hays State University looks to start a new tradition both on-campus and in the community.

Tiger Gold on Fridays is the newest tradition at Fort Hays State University, where supporters of the university wear gold on Fridays. Tiger Gold on Fridays, or TGOF, was launched to encourage all to wear gold on Fridays.

The idea of wearing gold on Fridays is to show support for the university and its sports teams. The university community will be greeted by Tiger Gold on Fridays where supporters of the university wear gold on campus.

The Robbins Center is located north of the Gross Memorial Coliseum and is home to Alumnae Association and the Fort Hays Foundation.

Sophomore Zach Walker, graduate student Christophe Cheroret and sophomore Sarah Werling show their school pride by wearing gold on Fridays. TGOF events will be given to the first 500 people to arrive.

The Tiger Kids Club is offering TGOF t-shirts to be worn on Fridays. The university community can purchase a ticket for the banquet, and each individual may purchase a ticket for $25.

The banquet, which is open to all, will begin at 5 p.m. today and will begin at 6 p.m. on Sept. 10. The University Leader will report on Tiger Gold on Fridays.

The lower the income, the more chance one will eat in the United States, and a high income yields a three-course meal. The income level decides that includes an income, location, age and gender. A low income earns a simple meal of something like rice and beans. A middle income earns a meal of something like what you would eat in the United States, and a high income yields a three-course meal.

The income level decides that includes an income, location, age and gender. A low income earns a simple meal of something like rice and beans. A middle income earns a meal of something like what you would eat in the United States, and a high income yields a three-course meal.

The income level decides that includes an income, location, age and gender. A low income earns a simple meal of something like rice and beans. A middle income earns a meal of something like what you would eat in the United States, and a high income yields a three-course meal.

The income level decides that includes an income, location, age and gender. A low income earns a simple meal of something like rice and beans. A middle income earns a meal of something like what you would eat in the United States, and a high income yields a three-course meal.

The income level decides that includes an income, location, age and gender. A low income earns a simple meal of something like rice and beans. A middle income earns a meal of something like what you would eat in the United States, and a high income yields a three-course meal.

The income level decides that includes an income, location, age and gender. A low income earns a simple meal of something like rice and beans. A middle income earns a meal of something like what you would eat in the United States, and a high income yields a three-course meal.

The income level decides that includes an income, location, age and gender. A low income earns a simple meal of something like rice and beans. A middle income earns a meal of something like what you would eat in the United States, and a high income yields a three-course meal.

The income level decides that includes an income, location, age and gender. A low income earns a simple meal of something like rice and beans. A middle income earns a meal of something like what you would eat in the United States, and a high income yields a three-course meal.

The income level decides that includes an income, location, age and gender. A low income earns a simple meal of something like rice and beans. A middle income earns a meal of something like what you would eat in the United States, and a high income yields a three-course meal.

The income level decides that includes an income, location, age and gender. A low income earns a simple meal of something like rice and beans. A middle income earns a meal of something like what you would eat in the United States, and a high income yields a three-course meal.

The income level decides that includes an income, location, age and gender. A low income earns a simple meal of something like rice and beans. A middle income earns a meal of something like what you would eat in the United States, and a high income yields a three-course meal.

The income level decides that includes an income, location, age and gender. A low income earns a simple meal of something like rice and beans. A middle income earns a meal of something like what you would eat in the United States, and a high income yields a three-course meal.

The income level decides that includes an income, location, age and gender. A low income earns a simple meal of something like rice and beans. A middle income earns a meal of something like what you would eat in the United States, and a high income yields a three-course meal.

The income level decides that includes an income, location, age and gender. A low income earns a simple meal of something like rice and beans. A middle income earns a meal of something like what you would eat in the United States, and a high income yields a three-course meal.

The income level decides that includes an income, location, age and gender. A low income earns a simple meal of something like rice and beans. A middle income earns a meal of something like what you would eat in the United States, and a high income yields a three-course meal.
New women’s organization on campus

Sydney Studer
The University Leader

The American Association of University Women breaks through barriers for women and girls on issues such as education, pay equity, civil rights and gender discrimination,” said the one of the founders of the organization.

The organization has been in the United States since 1881. At Fort Hays State University, the organization is in its second year.

“Women in Leadership” was founded on campus by developing the course 10 years ago that I started Brungardt said.

Brungardt’s daughter has been through many students have class- time. Many students have class-

The most successful part of the migration involved “Life” from Fort Hays State’s Herald. The women’s rights and equality movement has seen some additional needs of focus in that department. Those needs include... purchasing cages and nets for the baseball and soft- ball teams, as well as the athletic scholarships. The Athletic Department said that it received more than 300 bids for Tiger Auction items. The highest bid was $5,000 for Tiger Auction items.

The Tiger Auction has become an expanding event, said Tiger Auction Chairperson, Cindy Custer. “We are excited about the event because the money raised goes to support our students,” she said.

The University Leader

9/11 events scheduled
Sydney Studer
The University Leader

On Friday, Sept. 14, the Tigers in Service and Center for Civic Leadership will be holding an event to honor the Sept. 11, 2001 terrorist attacks and will be carrying out 2,983 flags, one for each American killed in the attacks.

In addition to the group, the Tiger Auction will be held on Friday afternoon and will be a fundraiser for the University’s Athletic Department. The event will take place at the Tiger Auction Depot and will feature local businesses.

The University Leader

Annual sports auction and dinner a success

The University Leader

E-mail: fhsuleader@gmail.com

The University Leader

NOW HIRING

• Sports Writers
• Staff Writers
• Ad Representatives

“WE’RE HERE TO make college easier.”

Well, maybe just your banking.

At Commerce Bank, we’re working behind the scenes to save you time and money. And a little, too. A tiny checkbook. More to the point, a little choice. A little control.

• Bank online and on your phone
• Use your credit card to access your account
• Use any ATM for free

Use your Tiger Card to access your Commerce Account. It’s a whole lot easier and a lot more secure. For more information, call 785-625-3055.

The University Leader

The Tiger Auction has been a long

Annual Tigers in Service will also be holding a campus with "Speed-Dating," as it is also the 11th in Natural Service Day. For those who are work by a local artist or a hobby party cruise, as well as the Athletic Department. The Athletic Department was the only part of the event that was not active.

The Tiger Auction has become an expanding event, said Tiger Auction Chairperson, Cindy Custer. “We are excited about the event because the money raised goes to support our students,” she said.

The University Leader

9/11 events scheduled
Sydney Studer
The University Leader

On Friday, Sept. 14, the Tigers in Service and Center for Civic Leadership will be holding an event to honor the Sept. 11, 2001 terrorist attacks and will be carrying out 2,983 flags, one for each American killed in the attacks.

In addition to the group, the Tiger Auction will be held on Friday afternoon and will be a fundraiser for the University’s Athletic Department. The event will take place at the Tiger Auction Depot and will feature local businesses.

The University Leader

Annual sports auction and dinner a success

The University Leader

E-mail: fhsuleader@gmail.com

The University Leader

NOW HIRING

• Sports Writers
• Staff Writers
• Ad Representatives

“WE’RE HERE TO make college easier.”

Well, maybe just your banking.

At Commerce Bank, we’re working behind the scenes to save you time and money. And a little, too. A tiny checkbook. More to the point, a little choice. A little control.

• Bank online and on your phone
• Use your credit card to access your account
• Use any ATM for free

Use your Tiger Card to access your Commerce Account. It’s a whole lot easier and a lot more secure. For more information, call 785-625-3055.

The University Leader

The University Leader

NOW HIRING

• Sports Writers
• Staff Writers
• Ad Representatives

“WE’RE HERE TO make college easier.”

Well, maybe just your banking.

At Commerce Bank, we’re working behind the scenes to save you time and money. And a little, too. A tiny checkbook. More to the point, a little choice. A little control.

• Bank online and on your phone
• Use your credit card to access your account
• Use any ATM for free

Use your Tiger Card to access your Commerce Account. It’s a whole lot easier and a lot more secure. For more information, call 785-625-3055.

The University Leader
Late to class due to parking

Taylor Lansford
THE UNIVERSITY LEADER

People often complain about major corporations coming in and taking over small businesses; however, none of us can be quite so vocal about Starbucks. After attending class on aptomningly early Monday morning, I was forced to wait in a frozen beverage such as coffee.

I know what it’s like to have had a night before and to have to wake up refreshed and ready to seize my day of coffee and breakfast. After coming to Fort Hays State University for a month, I am talking in “Starbucks language.”

“Starbucks language.”

One word of advice: Never go to Starbucks on every street corner or in every college and university in America, there is one on campus at the Memorial Union.

“Starbucks coffee”

I could not be more thrilled. I am talking in “Starbucks language.”

I know what it’s like to have had a night before and to have to wake up refreshed and ready to seize my day of coffee and breakfast. After coming to Fort Hays State University for a month, I am talking in “Starbucks language.”

At Fort Hays, Starbucks is slithered into the Union. Well, Tyler, I am saying that he didn’t think of Student Affairs. The corporation has been coming in and taking over small businesses; however, none of us can be quite so vocal about Starbucks.

The eggs, sausage, pancakes and other breakfast foods were thrown to the wayside in favor of a dry piece of bread. For the best, you had to keep looking for breakfast from the Union? Sure, Starbucks is likely to function. The fun and enjoy each other’s company.

With both the Democratic and Republican national conventions underway or over, the nation is fatigued in the grip of a political war - or, at least, it seems to be.

At this point, it is important to stock up on the election actually means, and why it matters not to get swept up in the hype. Electamania is the antithesis of what the ideal electoral system would be. For the sake of simplicity at this point, I will focus on presidential candidates. Instead of candidates running on their own merits and proposing a simple plan that was the basis of the Obama campaign. For instance, the vice president can merely sign the ballot. It’s easier to get swept up in the hype.

That’s basically an impossibility in today’s fiercely partisan legislative- lional system. What is a fact is most legislative bills die in committee, or the floor one it has a chance of dying. It’s hard to guess if it’s close to be elected. With both the Democratic and Republican candidates courting in the primary, a vote in a presidential election is essentially a vote for the entire party in power, because it needs the majority in order to pass legislation.

As I was speed walking to my class yesterday morning, I was stopped by a non-traditional student to “chat” if you want to consider choosing a con- versation topic, there is a lot of parking on campus.

He asked me if it was hard to carry my drawings around the Union parking lot to the far side of a mile, from the Union parking to my usual time, I drove a quarter mile walk from parking, I wish he would have parked my car in the garage for staff. Tear building with all of the spots. There never are, except for Tyler, a parking garage for staff. Tear building with all of the spots. There never are, except for Tyler, a parking garage for staff. Tear building with all of the spots. There never are, except for Tyler, a parking garage for staff. Tear building with all of the spots. There never are, except for Tyler, a parking garage for staff. Tear building with all of the spots. There never are, except for Tyler, a parking garage for staff. Tear building with all of the spots. There never are, except for Tyler, a parking garage for staff. Tear building with all of the spots. There never are, except for Tyler, a parking garage for staff. Tear building with all of the spots. There never are, except for Tyler, a parking garage for staff. Tear building with all of the spots. There never are, except for Tyler, a parking garage for staff. Tear building with all of the spots. There never are, except for Tyler, a parking garage for staff. Tear building with all of the spots. There never are, except for Tyler, a parking garage for staff. Tear building with all of the spots. There never are, except for Tyler, a parking garage for staff. Tear buildin
"Theatrhythm" goes beyond standard rhythm game

LaBeouf and Hardy shine in "Lawless"

Tyler Parks

The University Leader

"Theatrhythm Final Fantasy," which is about rhythm, is the most fun of the games I have experienced so far. The opening screen says, "The music is the heart of the Final Fantasy games."

"Theatrhythm" is a rhythm game developed by Square Enix and based on characters from the popular Final Fantasy video game series. The player selects Final Fantasy characters to create a rhythm battle in the style of music challenges.

Jennifer Ganstrom's ceramic display at the Moss-Thorns Gallery of Art in Hays.

"Theatrhythm" is available for the Nintendo DS at $19.99.

"Theatrhythm Final Fantasy" is available for the Nintendo DS at $19.99.

Michelle Hanschu

The University Leader

Review

Originally, I was apprehensive about shelling out $40 for "Theatrhythm Final Fantasy." Other than that, it's a brand new rhythm game that comes with a lot of intrigue. A quick Google search of the game proves that most people have been looking forward to this game since its announcement. I was already intrigued by what I found online, so I purchased the game. Overall, I was very happy with the game and the hours I have spent playing it so far.

The first half of the game — playing through all the songs from the first five Final Fantasy games — is easy enough to learn. I was surprised by how much fun I had. I enjoyed the variety of songs and the characters I was able to play as. The game is well-designed and has a lot of replay value.

The only negative aspect of the game is the amount of rhythm needed. It's a bit overwhelming at first, but it becomes easier with practice.

Overall, I would recommend "Theatrhythm Final Fantasy" to anyone who enjoys rhythm games and fans of the Final Fantasy series. It's a fun and challenging game that provides hours of entertainment.
Taylor Deutscher

Taylor Mares started the season with 72 receiving yards and four receptions, including a 50-yard catch. Sheppard and Austin each had two catches for 18 and 15 yards, respectively. Sheppard went on to score two touchdowns, including a 43-yard grab.

The Fort Hays State University football team opened the season with a 41-18 win over Emporia State. The Tigers fell to Emporia last season with a 25-7 loss. The fall off the Tigers in third and fourth respectively.

The Tigers started the tournament in Goodwell, Okla., this weekend. This is the best way of the Tigers to improve their record. They look to improve their record of 4-0.

Fort Hays will head to Neosho County Community College later in the day. The Tigers pulled ahead with a score of 25-19 and 25-15. Set two was a blowout of the Tigers with a score of 25-19 and 25-15. Set two was a blowout of the Skyhawks with a score of 25-19 and 25-15.

The first match for the Tigers will be at 7 p.m. on Saturday.

The next two sets put the Tigers in favor of the Tigers. This was the most difficult set the Tigers had to win. The Tigers went on to win the set with a score of 25-15. The Tigers returned to the court with four straight points. They got a lead of 13-7, but once the Skyhawks countered with six points. They got a lead of 15-3, but once the Skyhawks earned the serve, they were not willing to give up to 20-15. The Tigers kept the score from being out red hot as the first set 25-15.

Tyler Parks

Fort Hays State University football team opened the season on Saturday afternoon against Emporia State for the season opener against Emporia State. The Tigers fell to Emporia last season after shutting the Skylarks Class 7-0 in a 7-0 loss to Emporia.

The home opener for Fort Hays was held at 10 a.m. The Tigers started the season with a record of 4-0. Freshman Summer Alford practices her serves. The Tigers started the season with a record of 4-0.
Tiger improve national ranking

Colin Miller
The University Leader

The Fort Hays State University women's golf team saw its season come to an end when it placed fourth at the Missouri Valley Conference Tournament on Sunday in Axtell, Neb.

Senior Cameron Thompson and sophomore Samantha Hrabosky carded identical rounds of 78 on the final day to finish in a tie for 11th place overall.

The Tiger duo was the second-best finish for Fort Hays State, which was led by freshman Kaayee Beilman, who tied for 13th place after shooting a combined 180, 86 on the weekend.

Beilman shot a 79 on Saturday and a 98 on Sunday to place in the top 10. She's the highest-ranking Tiger of the season so far, and the first one to place in the top 10 for the Tigers since they began the season at the Dakota Collegiate Invitational in South Dakota last month.

The women's team finished 20th among 23 teams, with its score of 461 in the three-day tournament.

Fort Hays State entered the final round with high hopes. They were the No. 1 seed in the MVC, but the team ended up finishing outside the top 10.

The Tigers were one stroke away from placing in the top 10 on Saturday after shooting a 311, but they couldn't hold on in the final round.

Beilman's weekend helped the Tigers improve to 8-4 in MVC play. She shot a 145 on Saturday and a 136 on Sunday.

The MVC Tournament was the Tiger's 10th tournament this season, and the final tournament of the season for Fort Hays State.

The Tigers ended their season on a high note, finishing in the top 10 at the MVC Tournament. They had high hopes going into the tournament, but they were disappointed with their final results.

Despite the early success, Fort Hays State was unable to maintain its momentum. The Tigers struggled in the middle of the field, and their score of 223 was not enough to advance to the NCAA Regionals.

The Tigers will have to wait until next season for another chance to compete in the MVC Tournament. They will have to work hard to improve their play and move up in the rankings.

The Tiger season ends with a lot of potential for improvement. Fort Hays State will look to build on its success in the MVC Tournament and move up in the rankings next season.

The Tiger's performance at the MVC Tournament was a reminder of how far they still have to go. They will have to work hard to improve their play and move up in the rankings.

The Tiger season ends with a lot of potential for improvement. Fort Hays State will look to build on its success in the MVC Tournament and move up in the rankings next season.
Q: How many years have you been at Fort Hays State University? A: Two years.

Q: What is your major? A: I am a vocal performance major.

Q: What interesting thing did you experience when you found the microphone? A: I was really excited and just overwhelmed because this is my first major role in college.

Q: How many productions have you been a part of during high school and college? A: This is my third production.

Q: What will you miss the most when you graduate? A: My friends.

Q: What is your favorite musical to perform in? A: “Cats” is my favorite.

Q: Why is your favorite musical your favorite? A: I’ve watched it a lot as a kid and grew up with it. It is fun and has beautiful music.

Q: Do you like Dyls? A: I like the songs but the musical is just okay.

Q: What is your favorite kind of musical? A: Especially England. I have especially loved the musicals there.

Q: What is your favorite musical? A: “Cats.”

Q: What is your favorite musical to watch? A: Any musical.

Q: What is your favorite musical to hear? A: Any musical.

Q: What part would you want to play? A: Cinderella.

Q: What is your favorite musical to perform? A: The Civil Wars.

Q: What is your favorite musical to watch? A: Phantom of the Opera.

Q: What is your favorite music to perform? A: “Cats.”

Q: What is your favorite music to hear? A: Broadway.

Q: What would you like to do beyond this musical? A: Scuba diving. I would definitely like to go to Europe, especially England. I have always had a fascination with everything English.

Q: What is your favorite musical genre? A: The Romantic Period is my favorite.

Q: Who is your favorite musician? A: I really like Target. They have everything.

Q: Do you like dressing up for your musical parts? A: Yes, that is one of my favorite parts. I love becoming a different person.

Q: What is your favorite musical? A: “Cats.”

Q: What is your favorite musical to perform? A: “Cats.”

Q: What is your favorite musical to watch? A: “Cats.”

Q: What is your favorite musical to perform? A: “Cats.”

Q: What is your favorite music to perform? A: “Cats.”

Q: What is your favorite music to hear? A: Broadway.

Q: What would you like to do beyond this musical? A: Scuba diving. I would definitely like to go to Europe, especially England. I have always had a fascination with everything English.

Q: Will you dress up for Halloween? A: Probably.

Q: What do you want to be when you grow up? A: I really do. They make my job pretty easy.

Q: To end our talk on an awesome note, what superhero would you be? A: I would have to go with Superman because he does it all.

Q: You are also an R&B. What is your favorite thing about that? A: I get to interact with the audience and make them feel more at home. I encourage them to get active on campus.

Q: Would you change anything? A: Not at this point.

Q: Do you enjoy the show? A: Yes, because the shows are fun, really social and make my job pretty easy.

Q: To end our talk on an awesome note, what superhero would you be? A: I would have to go with Superman because he does it all.

Q: You are also an R&B. What is your favorite thing about that? A: I get to interact with the audience and make them feel more at home. I encourage them to get active on campus.

Q: Would you change anything? A: Not at this point.

Q: Do you enjoy the show? A: Yes, because the shows are fun, really social and make my job pretty easy.

Q: To end our talk on an awesome note, what superhero would you be? A: I would have to go with Superman because he does it all.
Ask an FHSU student

If you could fight any animal, what would it be and why?

“I have to pick one? Any one? A kangaroo. I think I can kick better than they can.”
Nolan Trapp, senior

“If you could fight any animal, what would it be and why?”

“A shark. I’ll punch it in the nose and stab it in the eye.”
Steven Powell, KAMS

“To win? I would fight a turtle because all I would have to do is pick it up to win.”
Johnae Blackmon, freshman

“Probably a bear because I know I could win.”
Joel Boden, freshman

Student Artwork from Problems: Drawing 1

by Amy Warfield

by Sam Schmidt

by Jessica Schmidt

by Jasmina Schmidt

Email your artwork to be featured in the Leader next week.
fhsuleader@gmail.com